Poster presentation at IFSCC International Cosmetics Conference

In September 2025, we will be presenting our latest research results at IFSCC Congress 2025, the world's largest cosmetics academic conference hosted by the International Federation of Cosmetic Chemists (IFSCC).

This year's IFSCC Congress 2025 will be held locally at the Palais des Festivals et des Congrès (Cannes, France), and our research results have been selected for a poster presentation out of many submissions from around the world.

The theme of the poster presentation is "Development of new fine titanium dioxide particles with excellent dispersibility." Details of the presentation will be made public after the conference.
